Educational Elements in Lynn Johnston's Alottabotz Books

All of Lynn's Alottabotz books are colourful and cheerful, featuring detailed illustrations and rhyming text. These books are ideal for reading aloud to a class, and each one addresses common topics in an engaging and approachable way that children will enjoy.

Book One: The Botshop

Timothy Bot and his family move to a new town.
- moving, making friends, loneliness, making things in a workshop, getting a dog, meeting people

- imagine what it would be like to move to a new place
- suggest ideas for making new friends
- talk about animals that make good pets for humans

ISBN: 9781739063207

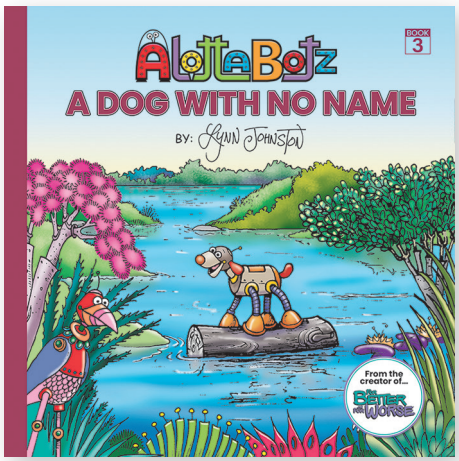

Book Two: Marvellous Things

Tim's grandfather makes pet bots for the people in their neighborhood.
- pets, moving to a new town, building things, community projects

- guess why Cyberland City didn't allow pets
- talk about having the power to change things
- discuss volunteering and community
- talk about making things with recycled materials

ISBN: 9781739063214

Book Three: A Dog With No Name

Tim's dog runs away and needs Tim and his Grandbot to come to the rescue.
- dog training, handling a tense situation, fish and underwater animals, submarines

- discuss why it's important to train your pets
- talk about the dangers of water
- have kids think about other ways of rescuing Rusty

ISBN: 9781739063221

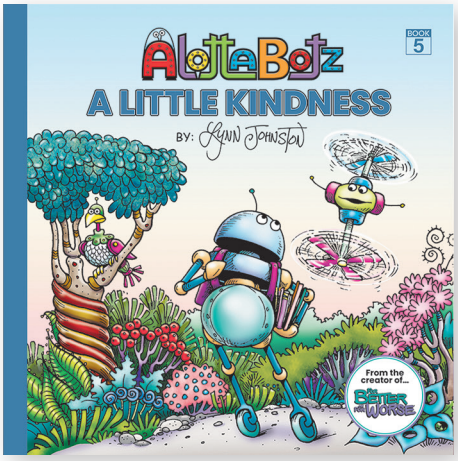

Book Four: The Big Trip

Tim and his family take a journey on a big spaceship.
- a parent travelling for work, going on a trip, space travel, travel, being homesick

- have kids think about or talk about places they've gone
- get them to illustrate the stars and planets the bots may have seen
- talk about space and space travel

ISBN: 9781739063238

Book Five: A Little Kindness

Tim tries to help his friend, Pella, who gets bullied by other kids.
- going to school, being different, learning differences, bullying, kindness, problem solving

- talk about how we are all different from one another
- discuss how differences can become advantages
- brainstorm what Grandbot could make for other bots to help them out, too

ISBN: 9781739063245

Book Six: The Best Prize

Tim and his dad enter a fishing derby and catch a surprise.
- fishing, competition, underwater life, caring for animals

- talk about rare species of animals
- have the children draw a rare kind of fish or bird
- what are the strangest, silliest animals on planet Earth?

ISBN: 9781739063252

AlottaBotz

www.alottabotz.com